Foreword

We are now ready to take one of the big steps in our lives. This step of graduating from high school is mixed with joy and sadness.

In high school we have learned to study, take responsibility, and to cooperate with other people. These steps, we feel, will be of great value in all that we do in the years to come.

In this book are memories of events familiar to all of us. Our time spent in high school is so brief, but it will dwell in our memories forever.

We offer this book as a souvenir of our four years of high school spent in Virgil.

MARY MAHAR - MR. WILCOX

Principal's Letter

To The Class Of 1957:

Now that you have completed your preliminary preparations and are ready to assume the responsibilities and role of an adult, it is only fitting that you should pause for a moment to gain perspective and chart your journey.

In retrospect, your journey thus far has been comparatively smooth. Distance has leveled many of the spots that seemed rough while you were passing over them. Perhaps you should take note of this and when you feel the grade is too steep remember that you must gain distance to see it in its proper perspective.

I sincerely hope that, as you separate at this point in your journey, each of your respective plans have room for more education thereby fitting yourselves for even more responsible roles as adults.

As a parting thought, I would leave you this quotation by Elbert Hubbard: "Go as far as you can see, and when you get there - you'll see farther."

Ray F. Wilcox

Dedication

The Senior Class is very pleased to dedicate their yearbook to Miss Esther Swisher. Miss Swisher is our Senior Class Advisor and was the director of our two plays. She has also strived to teach us the fundamentals of English Literature and has shown much enthusiasm in helping our class to succeed.

In September 1945 five very happy and excited children entered Mrs. Cary's First Grade. She had quite a time teaching us those boring ABC's. Carl Congdon joined us in Third Grade otherwise our life in grade school was uneventful.

In Eighth Grade Carol Wilson and Jerry Boughton joined us. We sold Christmas wrapping paper to raise money for our trip to Albany. This was the high point of the year. We visited the state education building, state office building and of course the state Capitol. On our return trip we stopped off at Howe Caverns.

We had a very exciting graduation. Luther Baker was our salutatorian with Anna Konne our valedictorian.

We started our Freshman year with Coach Moore as our advisor and Anna Konne as our president. Audrey Baker joined our group. We had a supper and also sold jello as our money making activities.

In our Sophomore year we elected Miss McBride as our advisor. Mrs. Wilson replaced her in mid-year when Miss McBride left. Anna Konne again was president. Donald Hafler, David Mack and Miriam Seymour were the last to join our happy group.

Mr. Caslick was our advisor in our Junior year with Bill Doak as our president. Our class year was arrived the last of November which proved to be a rainy occasion. Two other great events were the Junior play entitled "The Whole Truth" and our Junior Prom "Star Dust." Jack McHerron and Audrey Baker were crowned King and Queen with Jerry Boughton and Anna Kohne as runners-up.

Miss Swauger was our Senior advisor with Shirley Pond as our president. Some of our activities were a luncheon, an indoor circus, magazine sales and our Senior play entitled "Our Girls."

On Good Friday April 17 twelve very excited Seniors left for Washington. We spent four wonderful days at the nation's capital.

Class Will

We the Senior Class of 1957 of Virgin Central School, being of sound and disposing mind and memory do publish and declare this our Last Will and Testament in the manner following that is to say;

To the Junior Class, we leave all the fun of the Washington trip in their Senior year.

To the best of the Sophomore Class, we leave a Junior year.

To the Freshman Class, we leave the opportunity to arrive at our pinnacle of success in their Senior year.

To Mr. Luchs, we leave all the angles of the Senior Class.

To Mr. Pease and his law class we leave the right to decide whether this is legal or not.

To Miss Swauger we leave a box of Kleenex to wipe away her tears of parting grief.

To Doc Ames we leave a pin to cure the headaches the Seniors have caused him.

To Mr. Freeman we leave more girls to sing alto.

To Mrs. Wilcox we leave the artistic temperaments of the Seniors.

To the cafeteria workers we will a hungrier Senior class.

To Mrs. Wolcott we leave more cooking experiments so the Ag. boys will be well fed.

To Mrs. Linehan we leave a larger following of Democrats.

Anna Kohne wills her flirtatious ways to Lesbia Coons.

Gerald Boughton wills his bevy of girl friends to George Ely.

Carol Wilson wills her position as transporter of footwear, Seniors to Dave Kryger.

Carl Congdon wills his shy ways to Dick Barnum.

Shirley Pond wills her infectious giggle to Pat Sherman.

Donald Hafler wills his ability to sleep through classes to Pat Burleigh.

Margaret Van Dee wills her quietness to the entire Junior class and hopes they make use of it.

Walter Doyle wills his speed to Linny Griswold.

Miriam Seymour wills her innocent ways to Ada MacLeod.

Dave Mack wills his driving ability to Rowena Haskins.

Audrey Baker wills her ability to go steady to Mary Kohne.

Prophecy

Miriam Seymour is quite a girl,
Boy did she give Syracuse a whirl.
But she quit her ramblin' life,
And settled down to be a wife.

Audrey

Carol Wilson turned out to be a shutter bug,
But she still knows how to cut a rug.
With a Ford that really peels,
She gets pictures for all newsreels

Shirley

John Val., whose alias is Anna Kohne,
Turned out to be a real phony.
We all thought her heart was set,
But found she was just a coquette.

Margaret

David Mack known as the Judge
From his farm would not budge.
He's making money hand over fist
But look at all the fun he missed.

Larry

Jerry Boughton straight and tall,
Didn't want to work at all.
The girl he married is tall and slim
And now she is supporting him.

Walter

Carl Congdon had his day,
When all he did was sleep and play
Now he leads a busy life,
Caring for his kids and wife.

Don

Miriam

Audrey will be a singing star,
Proclaimed by many both near and far.
But will this always be her life?
I hear she'll be a farmer's wife.

Carol

Shirley Pond worked in town,
And tried to turn it upside down.
Because she's really not that mighty,
Now she's pinning a droopy didie.

Anna

You have to watch the quiet kind,
Margaret is the one in mind.
She'll be married before the rest,
And take her family away out west.

Dave

Larry Griswold, known as Griz,
Still, as always is a whiz,
At dreaming up an easy way,
To have his fun and still draw his pay.

Jerry

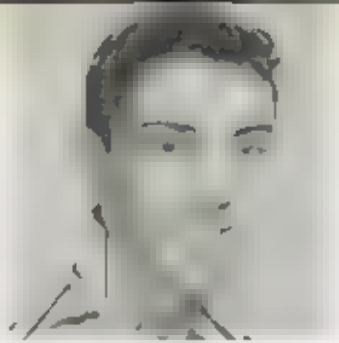

Walter Doyle was a ladies' man,
To be a chemist was his plan.
All he drinks is H₂O,
But how could that affect him so?

Carl

Donald Hafler, the sleeping beauty,
Always sure to do his duty,
Has a farm all his own,
Still works his fingers to the bone.

Alma Mater

Beneath the hills of Virgil
Our school stands proud and fair,
Ever symbolizing faith and honor true.
As we stand within her portals,
The love and friendship there,
We remember and again our pledge renew.

To the school of our hearts,
To our comrades fair,
Hail! Hail! Hail!
To the teachers we know,
And the joys we share,
Hail! Hail! Hail!

Hail, Alma Mater, we sing to thee
Strong in our love we will ever be
Loyal and brave to eternity,
Hail! Hail! Hail!

Virgil Fight Song

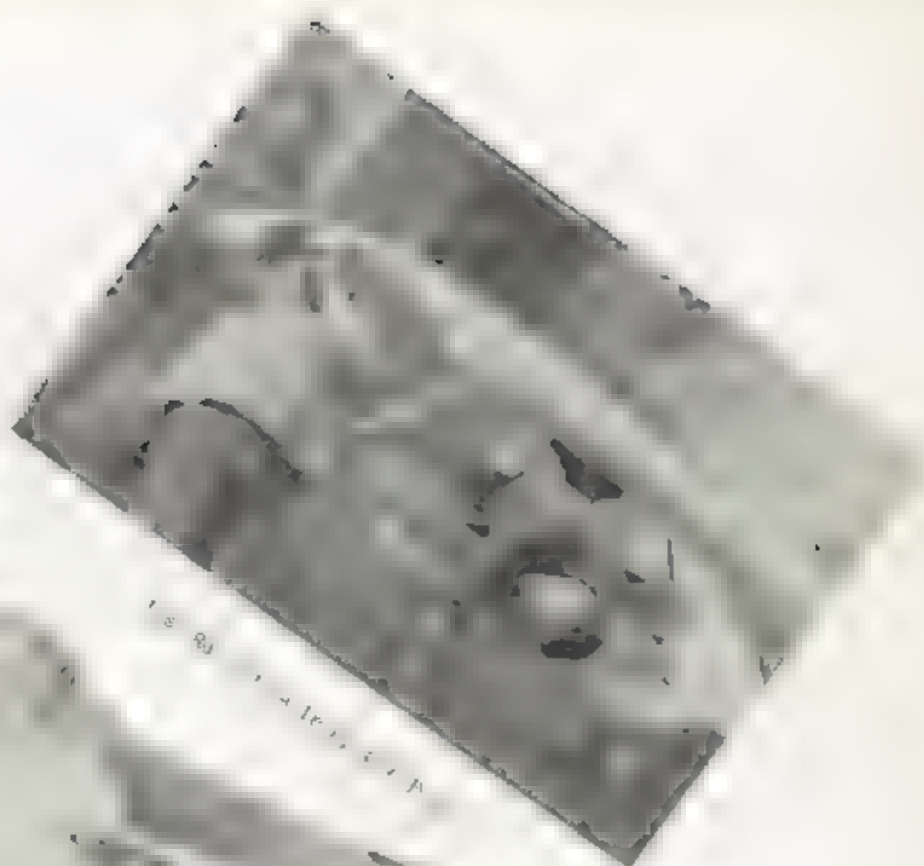

We're loyal to you, Virgil High.
We'll always be true, Virgil High.
We'll fight man for man
And we know you can stand
'Gainst the best in the land, Virgil High
Rah" Rah"

We're cheering for you, Virgil High.
We know you'll come through, Virgil High.
Our teams we will all remember:
They're our brave defenders
We're all for you, Virgil High!
Rah!
